German Language Contest for Indiana Teachers
We would like to invite you to participate in the German Language Contest because you are teaching third-year German or above at an Indiana high school. We invite you to participate in our second annual German contest by supporting your students to participate in the IUHPFL German language test.

In the summer of 2014, IUHPFL students will travel to Krefeld, Germany for the 50th time to spend seven unforgettable weeks. They’ll participate in intensive, daily academic instruction, live with German host families and take several exciting excursions, including to Berlin, Köln and Aachen.

Prizes
For every five students who sign up for the IUHPFL German language test by September 28, you or your department will receive one Germany-related book and/or DVD. Please see page two for prize information. You can indicate your preferences on the attached Agreement to Participate.

How to Participate
It’s simple. All you need to do is visit our website at iuhonorsprogram.org and learn more about the IUHPFL and why students and guardians have been loyal to the Program for 51 years. Once you’ve visited the website and confirmed that your students are qualified to apply, share the information with them and support them in signing up for the German language test. The signup deadline is September 28, 2013. Testing takes place in October.

Agreement to Participate
We ask you to complete the enclosed Agreement to Participate, even if your students only take the language test and don’t end up applying for the Program. On the agreement please indicate which prizes you’d prefer.

If you have one or more potential students that may be interested in spending an unforgettable seven-week summer in Germany and catapult their language skills to the next level, please take a look at the enclosed factsheet, visit iuhonorsprogram.org or contact us at iuhpfl@iu.edu for more information.

Most importantly, stock up your shelves by helping your students sign up for the German language test, the first step in the IUHPFL application process.

We look forward to meeting you and your students and hope you’ll become part of the 51-year tradition of the IUHPFL and its 50-year anniversary in Krefeld, Germany.

IUHPFL—111 S Jordan Ave—Bloomington, IN 47405—iuhpfl@iu.edu—
iuhonorsprogram.org
German Language Prizes

Books
“Ultimate German Beginner-Intermediate” (course book) [Paperback]
This deluxe course has everything you need to learn German from scratch or to revive the German that you learned years ago. Ultimate German combines conversation and culture in an easy-to-follow, enjoyable, and effective format. It’s the perfect way to learn German for school, for travel, for work, or for personal enrichment.

“Germany: Unraveling an Enigma” [Paperback]
Did you know that more Germans have immigrated to the United States than any other ethnic group? While German culture is rich in its own traditions and history, Americans still tend to see German culture as similar to their own until they experience it firsthand. The book includes a review of modern German history, major German cultural themes and their relationship to German communication patterns, and it also looks to the future, piecing together a picture of twenty-first century Germany.

Lonely Planet “Discover Germany” [Paperback]
(Full Color Country Travel Guide)

“German: How to Speak and Write It” [Paperback]
A Beginners’ Guide

DVDs
DVD Deutschland/Germany Language English and/or German

DVD “Das Leben der Anderen”
Movie about an East German spy who covered up a famous author’s secret regime-critical messages to West Germany.

DVD “Das Boot”
The story of a U-Boot crew in 1942 Germany.
Darsteller: Jürgen Prochnow, Herbert Grönemeyer, Klaus Wennemann 149 Min.