Hello IUHPFL Coordinator!

This week an e-mail will be sent with the results of the 2012 IUHPFL Language Test for students from your high school. Next to each student’s name will be either YES (your student passed), NO (your student did not pass), NOT TESTED (which indicates a student registered online but did not show up to take the test), or INVALID (which indicates the student has not paid the test fee or has not registered and scores will be held until payment is received).

For those of your students who passed the exam, be sure to congratulate them! The IUHPFL language test is a college placement test, thus just passing it is quite a feat. Please console those students who did not pass with the knowledge that over 700 students took the language test this fall!

Your students and their guardians will be receiving an e-mail from us — please see below — with the information in bullets. Please pay special attention to the newly announced Krefeld reduction in fees award as well as five new scholarships that will be awarded to Krefeld students (this is a big deal, German teachers!) as well as other scholarships and grants that are available to prospective IUHPFL participants.

Congratulations! You have passed the IUHPFL 2012 language test. We are happy to invite you to apply for the 2013 Program in ... Please read this e-mail carefully, and save it to be able to refer back to it.

Congratulations once again!

This year, students’ appraisal requests will be generated at the beginning of the application process. Please expect appraisal requests from your student(s) immediately. The e-mail will be generated by iuhpfl@indiana.edu and be called “IUHPFL Personal Application Appraisal Request.” Please be sure to check your spam folder, should your institution reroute the message there.

Thank you once again for promoting the IUHPFL within your school. Please share this e-mail and information with other teachers whose students took the language exam, so that they know what information is being communicated to their students.

Please contact us at iuhpfl@iu.edu or 812.855.5241 if you have any questions.

Best,

Stephanie Bretz
